MINI COURSE

Lean proof assistant workshop

Mr. Antoine de Saint Germain

Department of Mathematics, HKU

Abstract

This weekly workshop will be an opportunity for the participants to learn about the Lean Proof assistant in an informal way. The target audience include:

- Complete beginners who are curious to know about Lean
- Those who would like to get started with Lean (installation of Lean, GitHub, etc.)
- Those who want to participate in a formalisation project

Undergraduate students in mathematics or computer science are encouraged to join. This workshop is interactive; we will be coding with Lean throughout. Please bring your laptops with you. If you have questions, please feel free to contact adsg96@hku.hk.
